

A recent advancement on Non-smooth optimization

Kazufumi Ito

A general class of nonsmooth nonconvex optimization problems is discussed.

A general existence theory of solutions, the Lagrange multiplier theory and sensitivity analysis of the optimal value function are developed. Concrete examples are presented to demonstrate the applicability of our approach.